As educators we know that actions speak louder than words.

What does it really sound like and look like in your high school when you say we believe all means all? Do the actions and words of stakeholders reinforce the message to our students that we want you here, we believe in you, and we care about you?

During our time together we will share with you, as educators, how you can break down your diversity data to address the needs of all students, create systems to ensure “no students fall through the cracks” - and discuss how to develop positive partnerships with families.

And... yes, All does really mean All.
